

ver her as she read--my tears were shed in torrents-I marked not any thing bu my own miserable thoughts-my eyes were fixed on vacancy-her voice still sounded in my ears. By fits 'twas interrupted, -- then the strugglings of irrepressible grief-then inarticulate murmursthen a total silence! I recalled my wandering thoughts; I cleared my eye of tears -- l looked. Horror of horrors! why did I not die that instant? There! at the bottom of that trunk, seen dimly through the liquid grave in which she was inclosed, lay Detorah-my life-my love, the preparation, it may well be supposed drowned!--drowned in her own tears and we feel considerable anxiety as to the remine! From that hour I wandered thro' the world with the mark of Cain upon my brow--a murderer. Stranger, is it not a harrowing recollection? Ha! I see poused, augments the solicitude otherwise that your soul is melted. There! feel arising. It is true such performances my brow! I am not mad-no-no-no- ate frequently undertaken by hands, inves-yes-ah !-horrid-horrid !" competent to o satisfactory execution of On saying this the mysterious stranger darted up a tree with the rapidity of thought, and in vain I tried to discover desired in the present case, to please him. His narrative has never departed everybody. Such a task, it is thought, from my mind. Remember thee! ay, I'll would nearly approach impossibility .remember thee while memory holds her seat in this distracted brain.

FUNNY MATRIMONIAL ADVENTURE -Among other agreeable matter in the April number of the Knickerboc- surably, at least, overcome, the deficiener is an anecdote of Govenor Wentworth, cies arising from it, will certainly be the last of the Colonoial Governors of New Hampshire, and his lady. The story is true, and still related by the aged people in the neighborhood in which he verry pretty little girl some thirty years from intellectual incapacity, it is deemed his junior, who like most young wives was fond of gaiety and liked better to pass the evening in strolling through probably useless to enumerate any of the of her gray-haired husband. Nevertheless, although she kept late hours she was in every other respect an exemplarising before the sun, to enhale the cool ter repeated expostulations his patience was completely exhausted, and he frankly told her that he could bear it no lon ger, and that if she did not return home not be admitted in the house.

pretty ladies are want to do in such cases, and on the next occasion of a merrymaking she did not return till past two carriage drive to the door and the ponderous clang for admmittance, but he did not stir. The lady then bade her servant try the windows; but this the and drawing a heavy key from her pock etsent it ringing through the window the window and demanded the cause of the disturbance. "Let me into the house sir!" sharply demanded the wife. The Govenor was immoveable, and very uned, entreated, expostulated and threatened, but all in vain. At length, becoming frantic at his imperturbable obstinacy, she declared that unless she was admit- confidence in the utility of the undertated at once she would throw herself into king, and cannot believe it will be allowthe lake, and he might console himself with the reflection that he was the cause of her death. The Governor begged tired again to bed.

servants to run swiftly to the water, as be a source from whence to get it. Rea if in pursuit of her, and to throw a large stone over the bank, screaming as if in terror at the moment of doing it, while vinced of the necessity and justice of our she would remain concealed behind the course and intentions. No loss shall dedoor. The good Governor, notwith volve on patrons from any delinquency standing all his decisions and nonchalance, was not quite at ease when he heard his wife express her determination. Listening, therefore, very attentively, he heard the rush to the water side, the expostulations of the Bervants, the plunge and the screams, and knowing his wife to be very rash in her mo- Office, addressed to the proprietors. ments of vexation, and really loving her most tenderly, he no longer doubted the "Good God! Is it possible!" said he and springing from his bed he ran to the door with nothing about him save his robe de nuit, and crying out- "Save her, you who inhabit the precincts of the you rascals! Leap in and save your mis- ground hallowed and consecrated by time his wife hastened in doors, locked and made all fast, and shortly afterwards postulator. It was all in vain, however: the fair lady bade him good night, and shutting the window retired to bed, leaving the little man to shift for himself as the Govenor forgave his fair lady tra- called the "Canton Weekly Mail." It true," capable and industrious, and disdition does not say, but it is reasonable to is to be, according to the Prospectus, posed to do their duty as men, who are presume that he never again interfered with the hours she might choose to

MISSISSIPPI CREOLE.

CANTON, MISS.

SATURDAYMAY 29, 1841.

Readers! allow us most respectfully, to introduce ourselves. To-day we issue the first number of the CREOLE. Having undertaken this responsible and somewhat arduous duty, with litsult of our labors. The manner in which the performance of this tack has been esthem; but it is not expected, and hardly Numerous and peculiar disadvantages attend this enterprize; among them inex perience in the editorial department holds a prominent place, and until that is measeen and felt. Industry and application will have a tendency to effect this desirable object-at least with ordinary ability they ought to do so. However, as to "The Governor, it seems, married a whatever delinquencies that may occur unnecessar / to speak, and indeed it the woods by moonlight or in dancing obstacles that may exist in the way of at some merry-making, than in the arms correct and workmanlike discharge of the duties consequent upon this experiment. If more of those that evidently do ry wife. The Govenor, who was a qui- exist were mentioned, it might be suppoet, sober personage and careful of his sed an effort was making to pre-engage health, preferred going to bed early and the sympathies of the public. Such is breeze of the morning; and as the lady and the case. However well disposed seldom came home till past midnight, he citizens may be to the undertaking, hundreds of those whose last morsel is the thousand crimes that villainny can was not very well pleased at being dis- (which it is thought they are,) and howturbed by her late hours. At length af- ever liberal all may be in their criticisms, it is not expected that people will in these times of universal pressure and distress, extend patronage where an ample taunt such men with the imprudence will be passed without a notice and go in future before twelve o'clock she should return is not made. Consequently it is expected and earnestly hoped that the "The lady laughed at her spouse, as CREOLE will, by proper attention, assiduity and culture, be made worthy of its do is to pick up the fragments of the support, and to surmount all difficulties in the morning. The Govenor heard the that may embarrass its commencement. The mechanical department it is thought will be free from liability to animadversion, and what is to be expected from the Govenor had foreseen-they were all editorial may be deduced from the foresecured. Determined not to be out gen- going remrrks. The pen of a Johnson eraled, she alighted from the carriage, will not be wielded, and could we, like Elisha of old, possess ourselves of the ininto the very chamber of the good old spired mantle of our "illustrious predeman. This answered the purpose. Pre | cessor" of the "Whig Advocate," we sently a night-capped head peered from would indeed "go on our way rejoicing." At all events we have commenced this publication with a determined spirit, and mean to do every thing in our power to gallantly declared she should remain carry it out. Nothing will prevent it, without all night. The fair culprit coax- unless we are very much deceived in our

The cash system we have been comshe would do so if it would afford her any pelled to introduce. Credit being abopleasure, and shutting the window he re- lished in large trades, it could not be expected to prevail in small ones. Our cur-"The Governess now instructed her rent expenses being in cash, there must sonable men are we think already con-

expectations of patronage, which we by no means anticipate. We have every

ed to pine for want of necessary support

Those to whom we send the present number of our paper, who do not wish to ified and degraded with gr at injustice at he possesses himself of fifty or eighty become subscribers, will make it known by returning the papers through the Post

To those wishing to subscribe, we say, Come ne, Come all." Not only you of our own county, Yaz o. Holmes, Hinds, "the mossy glens of Push syroot," and tress!" make for the lake!-In the mean Leake War, but our friends anywhere and everywhere are expected to show appeared at the window from which her their blood. Competition is in the field husband had addressed her. The Gover- and if any thing will cause us to throw purity of the State. Her great natural nor discovered the ruse, but it was too our whole soul into the matter and bring resources which have already been de- lar publication day. The present is islate, and he became in his turn the ex- out all our energies, opposition will do it.

best he might until morning. Whether he designs publishing a newspaper, to be our State numbers of "honest men and most "decidedly a.d unequivocally laboring and writhing in the shoals and Whig" in politics. Mr. P. is welcome quicksands of irretrievable debt. If after looked for and justifiable Congressional and aspirations.

The wide spread and peculiarly unenviable reputation which our State and her citizens have acquired abroad for irretrieveable and notoricus insolvency, we well know operates much against us. Our citizens are probably more borne down by debt than those of other States, but were they less so a law of the description spoken of, would, there is no doubt in the world, be desired by ninetenths of them.

them. It is too late to chide. The storm sung. has passed and all that is left for us to dence which had brough, his misfortune upon him. How aggravating and unreasonable it would be. How far from that superlative delight and satisfaction which the first appearance of the friend would seem to indicate.

the days of the pristine st-ength and

U. S. Congress, praying the passage ing to pay off by mites, would do. But it instant. of a General Bankrup Law. This paper certainly cannot be philosophy, mercy or is now open for the entering of names, justice to allow so much misery to stalk and from the large number already to through the land, when it might be avoidthis document, and the unanimity of opi- ed. Although not the opinion of some, nion that prevails among the people in this law would certainly diminish the nurelation to this important subject, we merous inducements to crime and fraud should judge there was but I tile opposi- which at present exist. Grass and shrubtion else where to the passage such a bory will grow up in the road to Texas. law. At the same time we are aware of which for two years has been lined with the peculiarly heavy load of debt, and our citizens; our cotton fields will re- gued, shall be superior to our present the uncommon and embarrassing pecu- bloom in renovated whiteness; trade and Commodore, proposes the time commod niary pressure which is weighing our business will receive a new impetus, and recole down and will continue to depress the vigorous tread of the liberated debtthem until removed by some anxiously or will appounce the revival of fresh hopes

We hope the people of the State wil more fully than they have already done, make known their sentiments on this subject, and if it should assume a party character in Congress, let it not do so with those who are themselves the source of of the "Sea Serpent."

THE PROGRESS '1 CRISE. It is an alarming fact that crune is more rife throughout the United States and probably throughout the world than It must be recollected at the same it has ever been known to be before. It time that our mode of doing business has is a truly sickening and lamentable revery materially changed within the last flection, but nevertheless true, and time two or three years. The credit system should not be lost in awelling with gloomy is almost entirely abolished, and all com- countenance and sorrowful forebodings ding, which like an earthquake shock casting odium and shame on the country, cumstances might be expected. and the withering blast of a tornado con- and a firebrand into every man's house. vulsed and swept over the land but a very | There is not a newspaper that circulates few years since, has ceased; but its ef- among us but is filled with long and nufects are left and may be heard in the merous accounts of robbery, murder, ardeep drawn sighs and heavy curses of son, seduction, forgery, suicide, and all gone, and whose wives and children have invent. The next criminal calendar that is published must transcend the limits of It must be remembered too that it is former ones, or many who have rendered useless (as is the custom) to upbraid and themselves illustrious in "their line" which brought these misfortunes apon down to their graves unknown and un-

From one end of the Union to the other, crime and fraud appear to be the orwreck and make the best possible use of der of the day, and the difficulty is that them. The people admit the existence physiognomy has been supplanted by of the evil and the evil causes which dress and artful affectations of simplicity produced it, and with penitent hearts and candor, for murderers, thieves and pray for relief. We give an instance. - swindlers are found in the high places, If by some imprudence or negligence a and in other situations they go about in man becomes entangled in the deep ma- search of prey, passing for gentlemen zes of a wood, forgets his route and the and clever fellows, "clad in purple and direction of his home, after wandering | fine line," and of course better calculated about for days and weeks in fruitless to deceive even the most experienced and search of some friendly path or some suspicious. So genteel and distinguished kind hand to lead him to his happy fire- have swindlers become that it is getting ked murder. Walker has, we learn, been side, he sees at a distance coming to him disreputable to be elevated to offices of one whom he had known long and well; trust and honor, and to dress well is adit would not do for this kind friend mirab ; calculated to excite suspicion. to reprove the lost man for the impru- Crime is not now-a-days confined to the ignorant classes.

march of villainy, and the most fre- county. quently proposed and most strenuously urged is to give the people education.-To return, because revited Mississippi | Send knowledge among them. The ausuffers most, her influence should not be dible cry is give them Education. This diminished. On the contrary, in propor- may do very well. We are not an adtion to her wants & sufferings, her weight | vocate for keeping the people in darkness and influence in the investigation of this by any means; far from it. But a man matter and the passage of this contempla- who can swindle several of the good and ted law, should be increased. Where the loyal subjects of Queen Victoria out of pang is most keenly feltlet the first ap large amounts of money, elude the vigication be made to relieve it. Because lance of the English police, come over to sne har been once disfranchised, and of late the United States, forge drafts on various genius have been love and liquor. years deemed of little importance, morally Banks in New Orleans, New York, Cinand politically; because she has been vil- cinnati and sundry other places, by which home and abroad, she should 1 be a!- thousand dollars, and still in one point at without up effort to "pluck up her be at the same time distinguished and dog; performing various ungallant and wealth and standing, has found in her withstanding he continues in the dark. cal importance, and this chosen spot the newspapers say are in existence .need. Nor will she be. The "bone and and enforce the law. In our State this

Hereafter, Seturday will be our reguveloped to the satisfaction of all, cannot sued a day or two before-hand, in order ety of subjects to employ them. All talk a production which has commended be improved upon or rendered advantato give more time for the preparation of of the "Boundary Line" War, was for a universal admiration, remarks Mr. T. Palmer has arrived in our vil- geous for years to come, unless relief as our second number, and to allay the tre- while diverted by "the McLeod case," as to his being the author. lage with printing material with which above desired is afforded. We have in mendous excitement and gratify the un- and indeed the newspaper editors at the

The editors of the National Intelli-encer state that on and after Saturday, is 5th of June next a weekly specified and the state of the steamship President, has been a prolific theme. If Congress was two papers, after the demise of one very correctly it is taken from him to a state of the steamship President, has been a prolific theme. If Congress was entered her look year, after the demise of one very correctly it is taken from him to a state of the steamship President, has been a prolific theme. If Congress was entered her look year, and the last Presidential canvass as an entered her look year. gencer state that on and after Saturday, the 5th of June next, a weekly paper, enitled the Weekly National Intelligencer with issue from their officers the demise of one very valuable one without opposition, we say, with issue from their officers the demise of one very valuable one without opposition, we say, with issue from their officers the officers their off titled the Weekly National Intelligencer will issue from their office. Price two Lay on Macduff." "The longest as great as the appearance of property he will issue from their office. Price two dollars a year.

"Lay on Macduff." "The longest as great as the amount of property he pole," &c.

"Lay on Macduff." "The longest as great as the amount of property he pole," &c. has thus acquired. Some n ty say that over his opponent, Mr. Carr.

THE BANKRUPT LAW PETITION. by slow dripping the stone is at length | We are requested to any the Rev. It is desired by many There is now and has been for some worn away. True, and if a man could Romann Brand will premie at the Me- and a name of the days past in our town, a petition to the live a thousand years, this plan of labor- thousand church on land y seat, the 30th Hon. France Co.

> A correspondent of the National Junel ligen ser, of the 19th alt. expresses a desire that some minious be made to the grades of office in the U. S. Navy, and after making some arguments in justification, on account of various objections to the titles of Admiral, General sucon Pacha, &c. for the officer who it is an er of the Navy shall have smeched to him the far-famed & peculiarly American title of " Sea Surpost." It would hardly be amiss, in order to assist this correspondent along in his work, to acopose the appellations of the "long, low, black schooner," the "moon hous," or the view, on our first new "Florida War," which certainly have all tastes, only an avthe qualifications applied by him to that in its present place is the

On Friday, the 14th instant, the day appointed by President Tyler for home- he discu dation and prayer, in respect to the me- us; nory of the Ismented Ceneral Figureson. livine service was performed in the ail- spensors. lage church by the Rev. Mr. Montgone- the narrountie notes of a ry, with a numerous congregation in an which stands + saling at

The circuit court of this county is now in another minus we good on the fourth and last week of its terms leans Money Price Corners mercial and trading transactions are now on this unpleasant state of affairs, with- the Hon. I. R. Nicholson on the Beach. from of the article conducted on the strictest principles of out devising and executing some plan to any quantity of lawyers at the har, and new in this economy and retrenchment, and that put a stop to the monstrous and stagger- business dragging along with a progress out the state of th system of wild speculation and over-tra- ing corruption, vice and villainy that is sion particularly slow, that under the cir- which but may can be and

> The Gallon Law has most signally A London puper goes the in failed in its operation in Warren co. The description of a pair of Similar Grand Jury have recently refused to intended for the Lilipotes easy indict any who were accused of selling the Princess Reval spirituous liquors. Thus it will be every her Majesty, non where. The personal rights of a people Royal Highness the Process in are not thus to be interfered with, and Mrs. Cox. of Lawley Law the best thing the Legislature could have done at its last session would have been marked black and while med any to repeal the law, because the open vio- symmetry. They are in was at lation and disregard of it which are evin- have been brought and in ced every day, are of more injury to the tic animals, being access majesty and dignity of the law, than liquor ever will be in its own free and un- his Royal Highness Prince Asse forbidden use. With the law we have gardens of Buckingham Palanana two difficulties. There is more liquor day last." drank than without it, and the law is insulted, whereas without it there would be no violation of the law, (extremely injurious) and less liquor drank.

We learn that a few days Fine a man by the name of Walker killed a Mr. Ralston in Kosciusko, Attala county, with a Bowie knife. Particulars we did not ed in light, and the first war and learn, further than that it was an unpro. over the grave of day." taken to Vicksburg and confined in the

We learn that a Mr. Dixon, a respectable citizen of Yazoo county, cut his Corsum Various modes are suggested by throat with a razor a few days since, in which to stop this rapid and alarming the neighborhood of Benton, in that

> It is supposed that the steam ship President, from New York to Liverpeel has organs of hearing was ten the been lost. Great anxiety prevails at the North in relation to her safety and that of many passengers who left New York in her. Since writing the above we Payette Bank

The Milford Bard long known as a from England Poet of true genius, has been confined in total his an Almshouse. The infirmities of his Considerable alarm was occasioned a few evenings since, by the appearance among the most respectable portion of lowed to sink into oblivion and disgrace least resemble Walter Scott and Junius, the canine class of our town of a good drowned honor." Agriculture, that great "unknown," it appears to us is a good impolite acts, by which he attracted the tish living bulwark of our national and individual deal smarter than common folks, not- attention of some fifteen or twenty uningnant citizens, who "by force of arms," soil the elements to sustain great politi Such a man and numbers of similar ones, forced the stranger to decamp. Following this the Selectmen of the town have a native of should not by deserted in her hour of Our plan is, find the villains, try them, issued an edict against the dogs domicil- for many years the iated and resident in the corporate lim- schoolmas sinew" of 'he count. / still remain as in has not been done with sufficient rigourter the 5th June.

The minds of people must have a varibounded curiosity in relation to our paper, which is at present agitating, this arm which is at present agitating this commaterial for so many paragraphs. But authorship of the above and the the McLeod excitement is now dying a of poetical productions! We observe that Mr. J. L. White, the way, and for some days past the doubtamong us. Notwithstanding we do not believe this county can or will support cumstanced accumulates a small amount in the last D. T. White, the way, and for some days past the doubt-gentleman who so distinguished himself ful fate of the steamship President, has dame of Monbesge, in the last D. thing new to agitate the public mind.

Take the him!

modest and weighs so wall the

From the above we suppose the life